

Detective Superintendent
Paula Hudson

Australian Federal Police

Detective Superintendent Paula Hudson's passion for combatting all forms of human exploitation and community safety has been demonstrated throughout her 25 year career in the AFP. D/Supt Hudson has combined expertise in serious and organised transnational criminal investigations, overlaid with key senior leadership roles within Counter Terrorism, International Operations, Child Protection and Human Trafficking Commands. D/Supt Hudson spent four years in Vietnam brokering joint operations, building capability and training police, industry and civil society in the fight against all forms of human exploitation across the region. A career highlight was implementing an Australian travelling child sex offender intervention strategy across South East Asia receiving recognition by the United Nations.
