Séverine Tamburini-Kender is a board certified Family Law specialist and runs her own practice in Aix-en-Provence (South of France). She practices exclusively in all areas of French and International family and matrimonial Law including divorce, spousal and child support, financial and property issues, prenuptial agreements, cross-border exercise of parental responsibility, leave to remove, recognition and enforcement of foreign Orders, Hague Convention cases.

Séverine received her PhD in European Law in 1997. She took her doctorate as doctoral research fellow at the International and EU Study Centre (CERIC) of the Aix-Marseille University. She also holds two Post Graduate degrees in European Law and Criminal Law.

Séverine is an active member of the Aix-en-Provence Bar's Family Law Committee. She gives lectures on International family Law to fellow solicitors from several regional Bar Associations.

She is trained as a collaborative Lawyer and would always favor amicable out of Court settlements.

She more particularly handles French and International family cases before the Court Of Appeal of Aix-en-Provence, second largest Court of Appeal in France which hears limitless appeals from eight regional Courts.

She is referenced as a solicitor at the American Consulate in Marseille.
